

THOMAS ADAMS

Thomas Adams is a botanist with the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service Texas Mid-coast National Wildlife Refuge Complex, based in Brazoria. He is an expert in plant identification and has led numerous field trips on wildlife refuges and at Nash Prairie Preserve. He has been a featured speaker for TMN-COT meetings.

Thomas Adams at Nash Prairie leading a TMN-COT field trip, October, 2004.
Photo: Neal McLain

Photograph of Thomas Adams posted on Flickr by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service in recognition of his service in the United States Marines.
Photo: USFWS via Flickr

Thomas (right) with Cody Dingee, at USFWS Volunteer Appreciation Dinner, Freeport Community House, February 2009
Photo: Neal McLain

Thomas (left) with Chris Kneupper and Carl Kneupper, at USFWS Otto Tract, November 2013.
Photo: Christy Kneupper

Thomas (second from left) with Jerry Krampota, Dick Hickner, and Denis James, at Brazoria National Wildlife Refuge Field Office, February 2011.
Photo: Neal McLain